United States Patent [19]

Cremer

[11] Patent Number: 4,943,575

[45] Date of Patent: Jul. 24, 1990

[54] PHARMACEUTICAL COMPOSITION FOR THE TREATMENT OF GENETICALLY CAUSED DEGENERATIVE RETINA DISEASES AND A PROCESS FOR THE PREPARATION THEREOF

[75] Inventor: Gertrud Cremer, Münster, Fed. Rep. of Germany

[73] Assignee: Pharm-Allergan GmbH, Karlsruhe, Fed. Rep. of Germany

[21] Appl. No.: 155,400

[22] Filed: Feb. 12, 1988

[30] Foreign Application Priority Data

Feb. 13, 1987 [EP] European Pat. Off. 87102094.7

[51] Int. Cl.[5] A61K 31/50

[52] U.S. Cl. 514/249; 514/912

[58] Field of Search 514/249, 258, 262, 912

[56] References Cited

U.S. PATENT DOCUMENTS

4,425,344 1/1984 Horlington 514/249
4,425,345 1/1984 Horlington et al. 514/249
4,425,346 1/1984 Horlington et al. 514/249
4,746,668 5/1988 Sato et al. 514/912

FOREIGN PATENT DOCUMENTS

59524 9/1982 European Pat. Off. 514/249
2082455 3/1982 United Kingdom 514/249

OTHER PUBLICATIONS

Ann. Optamol. Clin. Ocul., 97:143–153 (1971).

Primary Examiner—Douglas W. Robinson
Assistant Examiner—Zohreh A. Fay
Attorney, Agent, or Firm—Sughrue, Mion, Zinn, Macpeak & Seas

[57] ABSTRACT

The present invention relates to the use of pteridines and/or biochemical precursors thereof or xanthinoxidase inhibitors for the treatment of genetically caused degenerative retina diseases, in particular retinopathia pigmentosa (RP), and a pharmaceutical composition containing the same.

7 Claims, 1 Drawing Sheet