

9

characters into a page of braille text having up to twenty five lines.

6. A braille board display as claimed in claim 4, including means for allowing a user of said display device to vary the amount of current passing through each of said solenoid windings of each electromagnetic transducer.

10

* * * * *