

5,749,857

9

to said catheter housing, such that when the user selectively actuates said trigger member said latching mechanism releases said portion of said safety tube assembly such that it retracts and withdraws said distal end of said needle through said self-sealing injection site and completely into said safety tube assembly.

10

* * * * *