

7

means mounted to said second tubular body, said first and second bracket means being connected by a strap extending from said first bracket means to said second bracket means.

10. The apparatus of claim 9 wherein said strap includes a lower looped end for receiving pin means therethrough for connecting said lower end to said first bracket means.

10

8

11. The apparatus of claim 10 including a split bolt extending through said second bracket means for receiving the upper end of said strap, said upper end of said strap being wound about said split bolt for securely fastening said inner component to said outer component.

12. The apparatus of claim 9 including a removable ring clamp mounted to said ring plate for reducing the size of said central opening.

* * * * *

15

20

25

30

35

40

45

50

55

60

65